The dub that can be described is not the eternal Dub.
The name that can be spoken is not the eternal Name.

The nameless is the boundary of Heaven and Earth.
The named is the mother of creation.

Freed from desire, you can see the hidden mystery.
By having desire, you can only see what is visibly real.

Yet mystery and reality emerge from the same source.
This source is called darkness.

Darkness born from darkness.
The beginning of all understanding.

3

If you overly esteem talented individuals, people will become overly competitive.

If you overvalue possessions, people will begin to steal.

Do not display your treasures or people will become envious.

The Wizard leads by emptying people's minds, filling their bellies, weakening their ambitions, and making them become strong.
Preferring simplicity and freedom from desires, avoiding the pitfalls of knowledge and wrong action.

For those who practice being-not-being, everything

5

Heaven and Earth are impartial; they treat all of creation as straw dogs.
The Wizard doesn't take sides; she treats everyone like a straw dog.

The space between Heaven and Earth is like a bellows; it is empty, yet has not lost its power.
The more it is used, the more it produces; the more you talk of it, the less you comprehend.

It is better not to speak of things you do not understand.

When people see things as beautiful, ugliness is created.
When people see things as good, evil is created.

Being and non-being produce each other.
Difficult and easy complement each other.
Long and short define each other.
High and low oppose each other.
Fore and aft follow each other.

Therefore the Wizard can act without doing anything and teach without saying a word.
Things come her way and she does not stop them; things leave and she lets them go.
She has without possessing, and acts without any expectations.

4

The Dub is like an empty container:
it can never be emptied and can never be filled.
Infinitely deep, it is the source of all things.
It dulls the sharp, unties the knotted, shades the lighted, and unites all of creation with dust.

It is hidden but always present.
I don't know who gave birth to it.
It is older than the concept of God.

6

The spirit of emptiness is immortal.
It is called the Great Mother because it gives birth to Heaven and Earth.

It is like a vapor, barely seen but always present.
Use it effortlessly.

7

The Dub of Heaven is eternal, and the earth is long enduring. Why are they long enduring?
They do not live for themselves; thus they are present for all beings.
The Wizard puts herself last; and finds herself in the place of authority.
She detaches herself from all things; Therefore she is united with all things. She gives no thought to self.
She is perfectly fulfilled.

9

It is easier to carry an empty cup than one that is filled to the brim.

The sharper the knife the easier it is to dull.
The more wealth you possess the harder it is to protect.
Pride brings its own trouble.

When you have accomplished your goal simply walk away.
This is the path way to Heaven.

Thirty spokes are joined together in a wheel, but it is the center hole that allows the wheel to function.
We mold clay into a pot, but it is the emptiness inside that makes the vessel useful.
We fashion wood for a house, but it is the emptiness inside that makes it livable.

We work with the substantial, but the emptiness is what we use.

8

The supreme good is like water, which benefits all of creation without trying to compete with it.
It gathers in unpopular places.
Thus it is like the Dub.

The location makes the dwelling good.
Depth of understanding makes the mind good.
A kind heart makes the giving good.
Integrity makes the government good.
Accomplishment makes your labors good.
Proper timing makes a decision good.

Only when there is no competition will we all live in peace.

10

Nurture the darkness of your soul until you become whole.
Can you do this and not fail?
Can you focus your life-breath until you become supple as a newborn child?
While you cleanse your inner vision will you be found without fault?
Can you love people and lead them without forcing your will on them?
When Heaven gives and takes away can you be content with the outcome?
When you understand all things can you step back from your own understanding?

Giving birth and nourishing, making without possessing, expecting nothing in return.

Five colors blind the eye.
Five notes deafen the ear.
Five flavors make the palate go stale.
Too much activity deranges the mind.
Too much wealth causes crime.

The Wizard acts on what she feels and not what she sees.
She shuns the latter, and prefers to seek the former.

Success is as dangerous as failure, and we are often our own worst enemy.

What does it mean that success is as dangerous as failure?

He who is superior is also someone's subordinate. Receiving favor and losing it both cause alarm. That is what is meant by success is as dangerous as failure. What does it mean that we are often our own worst enemy?

The reason I have an enemy is because I have a `self'. If I no longer had a `self', I would no longer have an enemy.

Love the whole world as if it were your self; then you

The Sages of old were profound and knew the ways of subtlety and discernment. Their wisdom is beyond our comprehension. Because their knowledge was so far superior I can only give a poor description.

They were careful as someone crossing a frozen stream in winter.
Alert as if surrounded on all sides by the enemy.
Courteous as a guest.
Fluid as melting ice.
Whole as an uncarved block of wood.
Receptive as a valley.
Turbid as muddied water.

Who can be still until their mud settles and the water

The best leaders are those the people hardly know exist.
The next best is a leader who is loved and praised.
Next comes the one who is feared.
The worst one is the leader that is despised.

If you don't trust the people, they will become untrustworthy.

The best leaders value their words, and use them sparingly.
When she has accomplished her task, the people say, ``Amazing: we did it, all by ourselves!"

Look for it, and it can't be seen.
Listen for it, and it can't be heard.
Grasp for it, and it can't be caught.
These three cannot be further described, so we treat them as The One.

Its highest is not bright.
Its depths are not dark.
Unending, unnameable, it returns to nothingness.
Formless forms, and imageless images, subtle, beyond all understanding.

Approach it and you will not see a beginning; follow it and there will be no end.
When we grasp the Dub of the ancient ones, we can use it to direct our life today.

16

If you can empty your mind of all thoughts your heart will embrace the tranquility of peace.
Watch the workings of all of creation, but contemplate their return to the source.

All creatures in the universe return to the point where they began.
Returning to the source is tranquility because we submit to Heaven's mandate.

Returning to Heaven's mandate is called being constant.
Knowing the constant is called `enlightenment'.
Not knowing the constant is the source of evil deeds because we have no roots.
By knowing the constant we can accept things as they

When the great Dub is abandoned, charity and righteousness appear.
When intellectualism arises, hypocrisy is close behind.

When there is strife in the family unit, people talk about `brotherly love'.

When the country falls into chaos, politicians talk about `patriotism'.

Forget about knowledge and wisdom, and people will be a hundred times better off.
 Throw away charity and righteousness, and people will return to brotherly love.
 Throw away profit and greed, and there won't be any thieves.

These three are superficial and aren't enough to keep us at the center of the circle, so we must also:

Embrace simplicity.
 Put others first.
 Desire little.

The greatest virtue you can have comes from following only the Dub; which takes a form that is intangible and evasive.

Even though the Dub is intangible and evasive, we are able to know it exists.
 Intangible and evasive, yet it has a manifestation.
 Secluded and dark, yet there is a vitality within it.
 Its vitality is very genuine.
 Within it we can find order.

Since the beginning of time, the Dub has always existed.
 It is beyond existing and not existing.
 How do I know where creation comes from?
 I look inside myself and see it.

Nature uses few words:
 when the gale blows, it will not last long; when it rains hard, it lasts but a little while; What causes these to happen?
 Heaven and Earth.

Why do we humans go on endlessly about little when nature does much in a little time?
 If you open yourself to the Dub, you and Dub become one.
 If you open yourself to Virtue, then you can become virtuous.
 If you open yourself to loss, then you will become lost.

If you open yourself to the Dub, the Dub will eagerly welcome you.

Renounce knowledge and your problems will end.

What is the difference between yes and no?
 What is the difference between good and evil?
 Must you fear what others fear?
 Nonsense, look how far you have missed the mark!

Other people are joyous, as though they were at a spring festival.
 I alone am unconcerned and expressionless, like an infant before it has learned to smile.

Other people have more than they need; I alone seem to possess nothing.
 I am lost and drift about with no place to go.
 I am like a fool, my mind is in chaos.

If you want to become whole, first let yourself become broken.

If you want to become straight, first let yourself become twisted.

If you want to become full, first let yourself become empty.

If you want to become new, first let yourself become old.

Those whose desires are few get them, those whose desires are great go astray.

For this reason the Wizard embraces the Dub, as an example for the world to follow.
 Because she isn't self centered, people can see the light in her.
 Because she does not boast of herself, she becomes

Those who stand on tiptoes do not stand firmly.
 Those who rush ahead don't get very far.
 Those who try to outshine others dim their own light.
 Those who call themselves righteous can't know how wrong they are.
 Those who boast of their accomplishments diminish the things they have done.

Compared to the Dub, these actions are unworthy.

If we are to follow the Dub, we must not do these things.

Before the universe was born there was something in the chaos of the heavens.

It stands alone and empty, solitary and unchanging.
It is ever present and secure.
It may be regarded as the Mother of the universe.

Because I do not know its name, I call it the Dub.
If forced to give it a name, I would call it 'Great'.

Because it is Great means it is everywhere.
Being everywhere means it is eternal.
Being eternal means everything returns to it.

Dub is great.
Heaven is great.

27

A good traveler leaves no tracks, and a skillful speaker is well rehearsed.
A good bookkeeper has an excellent memory, and a well made door is easy to open and needs no locks.
A good knot needs no rope and it can not come undone.

Thus the Wizard is willing to help everyone, and doesn't know the meaning of rejection.
She is there to help all of creation, and doesn't abandon even the smallest creature.
This is called embracing the light.

What is a good person but a bad person's teacher?
What is a bad person but raw material for his teacher?
If you fail to honor your teacher or fail to enjoy your

29

Do you want to rule the world and control it?
I don't think it can ever be done.

The world is a sacred vessel and it can not be controlled.
You will only make it worse if you try.
It may slip through your fingers and disappear.

Some are meant to lead, and others are meant to follow; Some must always strain, and others have an easy time; Some are naturally big and strong, and others will always be small; Some will be protected and nurtured, and others will meet with destruction.

The Wizard accepts things as they are, and out of compassion avoids extravagance, excess, and the Heaviness is the basis of lightness.

Stillness is the standard of activity.

Thus the Wizard travels all day without ever leaving her wagon.
Even though she has much to see, she is at peace in her indifference.

Why should the lord of a thousand chariots be amused at the foolishness of the world?
If you abandon yourself to foolishness, you lose touch with your beginnings.
If you let yourself become distracted, you will lose the basis of your power.

28

Know the masculine, but keep to the feminine: and become a watershed to the world.
If you embrace the world, the Dub will never leave you and you become as a little child.

Know the white, yet keep to the black: be a model for the world.
If you are a model for the world, the Dub inside you will strengthen and you will return whole to your eternal beginning.

Know the honorable, but do not shun the disgraced: embracing the world as it is.
If you embrace the world with compassion, then your virtue will return you to the uncarved block.

30

Those who lead people by following the Dub don't use weapons to enforce their will.
Using force always leads to unseen troubles.

In the places where armies march, thorns and briars bloom and grow.
After armies take to war, bad years must always follow.

The skillful commander strikes a decisive blow then stops.
When victory is won over the enemy through war it is not a thing of great pride.
When the battle is over, arrogance is the new enemy.
War can result when no other alternative is given, so the one who overcomes an enemy should not dominate them.

Weapons are the bearers of bad news; all people should detest them.

The wise man values the left side, and in time of war he values the right.

Weapons are meant for destruction, and thus are avoided by the wise.

Only as a last resort will a wise person use a deadly weapon.

If peace is her true objective how can she rejoice in the victory of war?

Those who rejoice in victory delight in the slaughter of humanity.

Those who resort to violence will never bring peace to the world.

The left side is a place of honor on happy occasions.

Those who know others are intelligent; those who know themselves are truly wise.

Those who master others are strong; those who master themselves have true power.

Those who know they have enough are truly wealthy.

Those who persist will reach their goal.

Those who keep their course have a strong will.

Those who embrace death will not perish, but have life everlasting.

She who follows the way of the Dub will draw the world to her steps.

She can go without fear of being injured, because she has found peace and tranquility in her heart.

Where there is music and good food, people will stop to enjoy it.

But words spoken of the Dub seem to them boring and stale.

When looked at, there is nothing for them to see.

When listened for, there is nothing for them to hear.

Yet if they put it to use, it would never be exhausted.

The Dub is nameless and unchanging.

Although it appears insignificant, nothing in the world can contain it.

If a ruler abides by its principles, then her people will willingly follow.

Heaven would then reign on earth, like sweet rain falling on paradise.

People would have no need for laws, because the law would be written on their hearts.

Naming is a necessity for order, but naming can not order all things.

Naming often makes things impersonal, so we should know when naming should end.

Knowing when to stop naming, you can avoid the

The great Dub flows unobstructed in every direction.

All things rely on it to conceive and be born, and it does not deny even the smallest of creation.

When it has accomplished great wonders, it does not claim them for itself.

It nourishes infinite worlds, yet it doesn't seek to Wizard the smallest creature.

Since it is without wants and desires, it can be considered humble.

All of creation seeks it for refuge yet it does not seek to Wizard or control.

Because it does not seek greatness; it is able to accomplish truly great things.

If you want something to return to the source, you must first allow it to spread out.

If you want something to weaken, you must first allow it to become strong.

If you want something to be removed, you must first allow it to flourish.

If you want to possess something, you must first give it away.

This is called the subtle understanding of how things are meant to be.

The soft and pliable overcomes the hard and inflexible.

Just as fish remain hidden in deep waters, it is best to

The Dub never acts with force, yet there is nothing that it can not do.

If rulers could follow the way of the Dub, then all of creation would willingly follow their example.

If selfish desires were to arise after their transformation,

I would erase them with the power of the Uncarved Block.

By the power of the Uncarved Block, future generations would lose their selfish desires. By losing their selfish desires, the world would naturally settle into peace.

The Wizards of old attained unity with the Dub. Heaven attained unity and became pure. The earth attained unity and found peace. The spirits attained unity so they could minister. The valleys attained unity that they might be full. Humanity attained unity that they might flourish. Their leaders attained unity that they might set the example. This is the power of unity.

Without unity, the sky becomes filthy. Without unity, the earth becomes unstable. Without unity, the spirits become unresponsive and disappear. Without unity, the valleys become dry as a desert.

When a superior person hears of the Dub, She diligently puts it into practice. When an average person hears of the Dub, he believes half of it, and doubts the other half. When a foolish person hears of the Dub, he laughs out loud at the very idea. If he didn't laugh, it wouldn't be the Dub.

Thus it is said:

The brightness of the Dub seems like darkness, the advancement of the Dub seems like retreat, the level path seems rough, the superior path seem empty, the pure seems to be tarnished, and true virtue doesn't seem to be enough. The virtue of caution seems like cowardice, the pure seems to be polluted, the true square seems to have no corners, the best vessels

The highest good is not to seek to do good, but to allow yourself to become it.

The ordinary person seeks to do good things, and finds that they can not do them continually.

The Wizard does not force virtue on others, thus she is able to accomplish her task.

The ordinary person who uses force, will find that they accomplish nothing.

The kind person acts from the heart, and accomplishes a multitude of things.

The righteous person acts out of pity, yet leaves many things undone.

The moral person will act out of duty, and when no one will respond will roll up his sleeves and use force.

All movement returns to the Dub. Weakness is how the Dub works. All of creation is born from substance. Substance is born of nothing-ness.

The Dub gave birth to One. The One gave birth to Two. The Two gave birth to Three. The Three gave birth to all of creation.

All things carry Yin yet embrace Yang. They blend their life breaths in order to produce harmony.

People despise being orphaned, widowed and poor. But the noble ones take these as their titles. In losing, much is gained, and in gaining, much is lost.

What others teach I too will teach:
 ``The strong and violent will not die a natural death."

43

That which offers no resistance, overcomes the hardest substances.
That which offers no resistance can enter where there is no space.

Few in the world can comprehend the teaching without words, or understand the value of non-action.

45

The greatest accomplishments seem imperfect, yet their usefulness is not diminished.
The greatest fullness seems empty, yet it will be inexhaustible.

The greatest straightness seems crooked.
The most valued skill seems like clumsiness.
The greatest speech seems full of stammers.

Movement overcomes the cold, and stillness overcomes the heat.
That which is pure and still is the universal ideal.

47

Without opening your door, you can know the whole world.
Without looking out your window, you can understand the way of the Dub.

The more knowledge you seek, the less you will understand.

The Wizard understands without leaving, sees clearly without looking, accomplishes much without doing anything.

Which is more important, your honor or your life?
Which is more valuable, your possessions or your person?
Which is more destructive, success or failure?

Because of this, great love extracts a great cost and true wealth requires greater loss.

Knowing when you have enough avoids dishonor, and knowing when to stop will keep you from danger and bring you a long, happy life.

46

When the world follows the Dub, horses run free to fertilize the fields.
When the world does not follow the Dub, war horses are bred outside the cities.

There is no greater transgression than condoning people's selfish desires, no greater disaster than being discontent, and no greater retribution than for greed.

Whoever knows contentment will be at peace forever.

48

One who seeks knowledge learns something new every day.

One who seeks the Dub unlearns something new every day.

Less and less remains until you arrive at non-action.
When you arrive at non-action, nothing will be left undone.

Wizardry of the world is achieved by letting things take their natural course.
You can not Wizard the world by changing the natural way.

The Wizard has no mind of her own.
She understands the mind of the people.

Those who are good she treats as good.
Those who aren't good she also treats as good.
This is how she attains true goodness.

She trusts people who are trustworthy.
She also trusts people who aren't trustworthy.
This is how she gains true trust.

The Wizard's mind is shut off from the world.
Only for the sake of the people does she muddle her mind.
They look to her in anticipation.
Yet she treats them all as her children.
51

The Dub gives birth to all of creation.
The virtue of Dub in nature nurtures them, and their families give them their form.
Their environment then shapes them into completion.
That is why every creature honors the Dub and its virtue.

No one tells them to honor the Dub and its virtue, it happens all by itself.
So the Dub gives them birth, and its virtue cultivates them, cares for them, nurtures them, gives them a place of refuge and peace, helps them to grow and shelters them.

It gives them life without wanting to possess them, and cares for them expecting nothing in return.
53

If I understood only one thing, I would want to use it to follow the Dub.
My only fear would be one of pride.
The Dub goes in the level places, but people prefer to take the short cuts.

If too much time is spent cleaning the house the land will become neglected and full of weeds, and the granaries will soon become empty because there is no one out working the fields.
To wear fancy clothes and ornaments, to have your fill of food and drink and to waste all of your money buying possessions is called the crime of excess.
Oh, how these things go against the way of the Dub!

Those who leave the womb at birth and those who enter their source at death, of these; three out of ten celebrate life, three out of ten celebrate death, and three out of ten simply go from life to death. What is the reason for this?
Because they are afraid of dying, therefore they can not live.

I have heard that those who celebrate life walk safely among the wild animals.
When they go into battle, they remain unharmed.
The animals find no place to attack them and the weapons are unable to harm them.
Why?
Because they can find no place for death in them.

The world had a beginning which we call the Great Mother.
Once we have found the Mother, we begin to know what Her children should be.

When we know we are the Mother's child, we begin to guard the qualities of the Mother in us.
She will protect us from all danger even if we lose our life.

Keep your mouth closed and embrace a simple life, and you will live care-free until the end of your days.
If you try to talk your way into a better life there will be no end to your trouble.

To understand the small is called clarity.
54

That which is well built will never be torn down.
That which is well latched can not slip away.
Those who do things well will be honored from generation to generation.

If this idea is cultivated in the individual, then his virtue will become genuine.
If this idea is cultivated in your family, then virtue in your family will be great.
If this idea is cultivated in your community, then virtue will go a long way.
If this idea is cultivated in your country, then virtue will be in many places.
If this idea is cultivated in the world, then virtue will be with everyone.

One who is filled with the Dub is like a newborn child.
The infant is protected from the stinging insects, wild beasts, and birds of prey.
Its bones are soft, its muscles are weak, but its grip is firm and strong.
It doesn't know about the union of male and female, yet his penis can stand erect, because of the power of life within him.
It can cry all day and never become hoarse.
This is perfect harmony.

To understand harmony is to understand the Constant.
To know the Constant is to be called 'enlightened'.

To unnaturally try to extend life is not appropriate.
57

Govern your country with integrity, Weapons of war can be used with great cunning, but loyalty is only won by being-not-being.
How do I know the way things are?

By these:
The more prohibitions you make, the poorer people will be.
The more weapons you possess, the greater the chaos in your country.
The more knowledge that is acquired, the stranger the world will become.
The more laws that you make, the greater the number of criminals.

Therefore the Wizard says:
59

There is nothing better than moderation for teaching people or serving Heaven.
Those who use moderation are already on the path to the Dub.

Those who follow the Dub early will have an abundance of virtue.
When there is an abundance of virtue, there is nothing that can not be done.
Where there is limitless ability, then the kingdom is withing your grasp.
When you know the Mother of the kingdom, then you will be long enduring.

This is spoken of as the deep root and the firm trunk,
the Way to a long life and great spiritual vision.

Those who know do not talk.
Those who talk do not know.

Stop talking, meditate in silence, blunt your sharpness, release your worries, harmonize your inner light, and become one with the dust.
Doing this is the called the dark and mysterious identity.

Those who have achieved the mysterious identity can not be approached, and they can not be alienated.
They can not be benefited nor harmed.
They can not be made noble nor to suffer disgrace.
This makes them the most noble of all under the heavens.

58

If a government is unobtrusive, the people become whole.
If a government is repressive, the people become treacherous.

Good fortune has its roots in disaster, and disaster
lurks with good fortune.
Who knows why these things happen, or when this cycle will end?
Good things seem to change into bad, and bad things often turn out for good.
These things have always been hard to comprehend.

Thus the Wizard makes things change without interfering.
She is probing yet causes no harm.
60

Governing a large country is like frying small fish.
Too much poking spoils the meat.

When the Dub is used to govern the world then evil will lose its power to harm the people.
Not that evil will no longer exist, but only because it has lost its power.
Just as evil can lose its ability to harm, the Wizard shuns the use of violence.

If you give evil nothing to oppose, then virtue will return by itself.

A large country should take the low place like a great watershed, which from its low position assumes the female role.

The female overcomes the male by the power of her position.

Her tranquility gives rise to her humility.

If a large country takes the low position, it will be able to influence smaller countries.

If smaller countries take the lower position, then they can allow themselves to be influenced.

So both seek to take the lower position in order to influence the other, or be influenced.

Large countries should desire to protect and help the people, and small countries should desire to serve

Act by not acting; do by not doing.

Enjoy the plain and simple.

Find that greatness in the small.

Take care of difficult problems while they are still easy;

Do easy things before they become too hard.

Difficult problems are best solved while they are easy.

Great projects are best started while they are small.

The Wizard never takes on more than she can handle, which means that she leaves nothing undone.

When an affirmation is given too lightly, keep your eyes open for trouble ahead. When something seems too easy, difficulty is hiding in the details.

The Wizard expects great difficulty, so the task is always easier than planned.

65

The ancient Wizards who understood the way of the Dub, did not educate people, but made them forget.

Smart people are difficult to guide, because they think they are too clever.

To use cleverness to rule a country, is to lead the country to ruin.

To avoid cleverness in ruling a country, is to lead the country to prosperity.

Knowing the two alternatives is a pattern.

Remaining aware of the pattern is a virtue.

This dark and mysterious virtue is profound.

It is opposite our natural inclination, but leads to harmony with the heavens.

The Dub is the tabernacle of creation, it is a treasure for those who are good, and a place of refuge for those who are not.

How can those who are not good be abandoned?

Words that are beautiful are worth much, but good behavior can only be learned by example.

When a new leader takes office, don't give him gifts and offerings.

These things are not as valuable as teaching him about the Dub.

Why was the Dub esteemed by the ancient Wizards? Is it not said:

``With it we find without looking. With it we find forgiveness for our transgressions."

64

Things are easier to control while things are quiet.

Things are easier to plan far in advance.

Things break easier while they are still brittle. Things are easier hid while they are still small.

Prevent problems before they arise.

Take action before things get out of hand.

The tallest tree begins as a tiny sprout.

The tallest building starts with one shovel of dirt.

A journey of a thousand miles starts with a single footstep.

If you rush into action, you will fail.

If you hold on too tight, you will lose your grip.

66

Rivers and seas are rulers of the streams of hundreds of valleys because of the power of their low position.

If you want to be the ruler of people, you must speak to them like you are their servant.

If you want to lead other people, you must put their interest ahead of your own.

The people will not feel burdened, if a wise person is in a position of power.

The people will not feel like they are being manipulated, if a wise person is in front as their leader.

The whole world will ask for her guidance, and will never get tired of her.

The world talks about honoring the Dub, but you can't tell it from their actions.
Because it is thought of as great, the world makes light of it.
It seems too easy for anyone to use.

There are three jewels that I cherish: compassion, moderation, and humility.
With compassion, you will be able to be brave.
With moderation, you will be able to give to others.
With humility, you will be able to become a great leader.

To abandon compassion while seeking to be brave, or abandoning moderation while being benevolent, or abandoning humility while seeking to lead will only

There is an old saying:
"It is better to become the passive in order to see what will happen. It is better to retreat a foot than to advance only an inch."

This is called being flexible while advancing, pushing back without using force, and destroying the enemy without engaging him.

There is no greater disaster than underestimating your enemy. Underestimating your enemy means losing your greatest assets.
When equal forces meet in battle, victory will go to the one that enters with the greatest sorrow.

71

Knowing you don't know is wholeness.
Thinking you know is a disease.
Only by recognizing that you have an illness can you move to seek a cure.

The Wizard is whole because she sees her illnesses and treats them, and thus is able to remain whole.

The best warriors do not use violence.
The best generals do not destroy indiscriminately.
The best tacticians try to avoid confrontation.
The best leaders become servants of their people.

This is called the virtue of non-competition.
This is called the power to manage others.
This is called attaining harmony with the heavens.

70

My words are easy to understand and easier to put into practice.
Yet no one in the world seems to understand them, or be able to apply what I teach.

My teachings come from the ancients, the things I do are done for a reason.

Because you do not know me, you are not able to understand my teachings.
Because those who know me are few, my teachings become even more precious.

72

When people become overly bold, then disaster will soon arrive.

Do not meddle with people's livelihoods; if you respect them, they will in turn respect you.

Therefore, the Wizard knows herself but is not arrogant.
She loves herself but also loves others.
This is how she is able to make appropriate choices.

73

Being over bold and confident is deadly.
The wise use of caution will keep you alive.

One is the way to death, and the other is the way to preserve your life.
Who can understand the workings of Heaven?

The Dub of the universe does not compete, yet wins;
does not speak, yet responds; does not command, yet is obeyed; and does act, but is good at directing.
The nets of Heaven are wide, but nothing escapes its grasp.

75

When people go hungry, the government's taxes are too high.
When people become rebellious, the government has become too intrusive.

When people begin to view death lightly, wealthy people have too much which causes others to starve.

Only those who do not cling to their life can save it.

77

The Dub of Heaven works in the world like the drawing of a bow.
The top is bent downward; the bottom is bent up.
The excess is taken from, and the deficient is given to.

The Dub works to use the excess, and gives to that which is depleted.
The way of people is to take from the depleted, and give to those who already have an excess.

Who is able to give to the needy from their excess?
Only someone who is following the way of the Dub.

This is why the Wizard gives expecting nothing in return.
She does not dwell on her past accomplishments, and 74

If you do not fear death, then how can it intimidate you?
If you aren't afraid of dying, there is nothing you can not do.

Those who harm others are like inexperienced boys trying to take the place of a great lumberjack.
Trying to fill his shoes will only get them seriously hurt.

76

The living are soft and yielding; the dead are rigid and stiff.
Living plants are flexible and tender; the dead are brittle and dry.

Those who are stiff and rigid are the disciple of death.
Those who are soft and yielding are the disciples of life.

The rigid and stiff will be broken.
The soft and yielding will overcome.

78

Water is the softest and most yielding substance.
Yet nothing is better than water, for overcoming the hard and rigid, because nothing can compete with it.

Everyone knows that the soft and yielding overcomes the rigid and hard, but few can put this knowledge into practice.

Therefore the Wizard says:
"Only he who is the lowest servant of the kingdom, is worthy to become its ruler. He who is willing to tackle the most unpleasant tasks, is the best ruler in the world."

True sayings seem contradictory.

Difficulties remain, even after solving a problem.
How then can we consider that as good?

Therefore the Wizard does what she knows is right, and makes no demands of others.
A virtuous person will do the right thing, and persons with no virtue will take advantage of others.

The Dub does not choose sides, the good person receives from the Dub because she is on its side.

True words do not sound beautiful; beautiful sounding words are not true.
Wise men don't need to debate; men who need to debate are not wise.

Wise men are not scholars, and scholars are not wise.
The Wizard desires no possessions.
Since the things she does are for the people, she has more than she needs.
The more she gives to others, the more she has for herself.

The Dub of Heaven nourishes by not forcing.
The Dub of the Wise person acts by not competing.

Small countries with few people are best.
Give them all of the things they want, and they will see that they do not need them.
Teach them that death is a serious thing, and to be content to never leave their homes.
Even though they have plenty of horses, wagons and boats, they won't feel that they need to use them.
Even if they have weapons and shields, they will keep them out of sight.
Let people enjoy the simple technologies, let them enjoy their food, let them make their own clothes, let them be content with their own homes, and delight in the customs that they cherish.
Although the next country is close enough that they can hear their roosters crowing and dogs barking, they are content never to visit each other all of the
